

Setting a New Standard for Business Banking

Send invoices directly from your online or mobile banking

Autobooks has partnered with Jack Henry Digital to make integrated invoicing and digital payment acceptance standard features of Banno Online and Banno Mobile.

Help Small Businesses Get Paid, Stay Ahead of The Competition

Get ahead of the MegaBank competition, and stand up to BigTech providers, by enabling business owners to request and accept both card and direct bank transfers directly from Banno Digital Banking — powered by Autobooks.

Digital Invoices

Business owners can personalize invoices to suit their needs. To help with collections, invoices can be set to recur. Automated reminders and late fees ensure nothing slips through the cracks.

Accept a Payment

For small businesses and nonprofits that don't use invoices, Autobooks offers an online payment form. Each business is assigned a unique link to their own secure form — which can then be shared with paying customers.

The Benefits of Helping Small Businesses Get Paid Through the Autobooks Plugins

Increase Deposits. Reduce Displacement

When a small business owner gets paid through the plugins, the payment is deposited at your financial institution rather than a virtual wallet provided by a BigTech payment company.

Generate Non-Interest Fee Income

Every time a business owner accepts payments through the Autobooks plugins, your financial institution receives a share of the interchange revenue.

Increase SMB Primacy, Engagement, And Loyalty

Provide business owners with the tools they need to better manage their cash flow. Accepting payments directly into their account establishes a sticky, "direct deposit" type relationship.

Stay Ahead of the Competition

BigTech companies are aggressively marketing to small businesses, using online and in app payment acceptance as differentiating features. Stand up to BigTech and stand out from MegaBanks by making integrated payment acceptance standard features of your digital banking experience.
